

2000 WASHINGTON PROMISE SCHOLARSHIP

Financial Eligibility – Income Limits

Maximum Income For Year 2000 High School Graduates:

To receive the 2000-2001 Promise Scholarship, your family's 1999 adjusted gross income must not exceed the following income cutoffs. Financial eligibility is based on the income limits established in the year the student graduated from high school.

Family Size	Adjusted Gross Income	Family Size	Adjusted Gross Income
1	$40,400	5	$90,000
2	$52,800	6	$102,400
3	$65,200	7	$104,700
4	$77,600	Add $2,300 for each additional family member.

Maximum Income For Year 1999 High School Graduates:

If you did not receive the 1999-2000 Promise Scholarship because your family's 1998 adjusted gross income exceeded the cutoffs, you may reapply. Financial eligibility is based on the income limits established in the year the student graduated from high school. To receive the Promise Scholarship in 2000-2001, your family's 1999 adjusted gross income must not exceed the following cutoffs.

If you are a 1999 Promise Scholarship recipient, you do not need reestablish financial eligibility.

Family Size	Adjusted Gross Income	Family Size	Adjusted Gross Income
1	$36,100	5	$80,600
2	$47,200	6	$91,700
3	$58,400	7	$93,800
4	$69,500	Add $2,100 for each additional family member.	